THE R.I.S.E.™ ROADMAP

PRACTICAL PLANNING TOOLKIT

R - RESTORE

Debt & Cash Flow Reset

See where your money goes. Plan your next month.

BUILD YOUR OWN PLAN • 30 MINUTES

What you will walk away with

See whether your monthly money covers essentials, and pick one debt or spending step you can manage.

BEFORE YOU START

Recent pay, main monthly bills, loan minimum amounts and due dates. Estimates are fine to start.

Your 5 steps

01 See your situation

02 Work out the numbers

03 Compare choices

04 Plan 30 days

05 Review your progress

See your situation

Focus on the money left after essentials and minimum debt payments, not just your gross salary.

STEP 1 OF 5 UNDERSTAND

Take-home income each month (RM)

After deductions

Essential living costs (RM)

Food, housing, transport, utilities

Minimum loan and card payments (RM)

Do not count these twice

Other regular spending (RM)

Subscriptions, eating out, extras

Your debts at a glance

Debt / lender	Monthly minimum (RM)	Due date / overdue?

REMEMBER

If you are already behind on essential payments, contact the lender or AKPK early. This workbook is not a debt restructuring service.

THREE QUESTIONS TO KEEP IN MIND

1. Is money usually left before your next payday?
2. Are any bills or loan payments already overdue?
3. What payment causes the most worry?

Work out the numbers

Count each cost once. Include irregular expenses by setting aside a monthly amount when possible.

STEP 2 OF 5

DO THE MATHS

A SIMPLE EXAMPLE

EXAMPLE: Pay RM5,200 - essential costs RM3,200 - debt minimums RM1,400 - other spending RM450 = RM150 left. This is before unexpected costs.

Now use your own numbers

Take-home monthly income (RM)

Essential living costs (RM)

Required debt payments (RM)

Other planned spending (RM)

Money left (RM)

Income minus the three cost groups

WHAT YOUR NUMBER TELLS YOU

If the amount is negative or near zero, focus first on essential bills, realistic costs and getting support rather than new commitments.

A NOTE BEFORE YOU ACT

Do not stop minimum payments just to follow a payoff strategy. If you cannot pay minimums, seek help rather than guessing.

Compare your options

A good next step should fit your money, time and responsibilities - not only your hopes.

STEP 3 OF 5 EXPLORE

1 Pay high-cost debt first

After minimums, put extra money toward the highest rate. May reduce total interest.

2 Pay a small debt first

After minimums, put extra money toward the smallest balance. May create early wins.

3 Talk to lender / AKPK

If payments are overdue or unaffordable, ask about workable help before debts grow.

Compare your choices

Can I afford the minimums?

Will this lower costs?

Can I stick to it?

Before you decide, ask yourself

- [ ] Which payments are essential or already overdue?
- [ ] What interest or profit rate applies to each debt?
- [ ] Have I listed BNPL, credit cards and informal loans too?

Your 30-day action plan

Four small weekly steps are usually easier to keep than one big promise.

STEP 4 OF 5

TAKE ACTION

WEEK 1

List the facts

Write down balances, minimums, due dates and late payments.

My step:

WEEK 2

Protect essentials

Plan housing, food, utilities and debt minimums; ask for help if short.

My step:

WEEK 3

Choose one adjustment

Reduce one flexible expense or clarify options with a lender.

My step:

WEEK 4

Check results

Compare actual spending with your plan and adjust carefully.

My step:

Make it real

My first action in the next 48 hours:

Date I will check my progress:

Review & take the next step

Come back after 30 days. A useful plan changes when life or the numbers change.

STEP 5 OF 5

KEEP IMPROVING

What I track	Today	In 30 days
Money left after costs (RM)
Overdue payment count
Total debt minimums (RM)
One expense reduced (RM)

Your reflections

Which payment is most urgent?

What spending change is realistic for me?

Do I need support to make this manageable?

WHEN IT IS WORTH GETTING HELP

If you are missing repayments or cannot cover basic needs, seek guidance promptly. AKPK offers financial counselling in Malaysia.

Good questions to bring to a review

- Is there a safer way to manage my debt repayments?
- Can we make a budget that still covers my family needs?
