Investment Risk Checklist

Understand the risk before putting in more money.

BUILD YOUR OWN PLAN • 25 MINUTES

What you will walk away with

Identify what your investments are for, what you may need soon, and what you still need to check.

BEFORE YOU START

Rough investment values, cash available, when you may need the money, and the fee details if you have them.

Your 5 steps

01 See your situation

02 Work out the numbers

03 Compare choices

04 Plan 30 days

05 Review your progress

See your situation

A good investment decision starts with purpose, time and the ability to handle a loss.

STEP 1 OF 5 UNDERSTAND

My main investment goal

Education, home, retirement, other

When I might need the money

Under 1 year / 1-5 years / 5+ years

Cash I need to keep accessible (RM)

Bills, near-term goals, emergencies

If value fell suddenly, I would feel

Okay / Worried / Unable to cope

Your money by broad category

Where my money is	Value now (RM)	Easy to access?

REMEMBER

Keep short-term spending needs separate from money you can leave invested for longer.

THREE QUESTIONS TO KEEP IN MIND

1. What is this money meant to achieve?
2. When might you need to use it?
3. How much of your investment is tied to one thing?

Work out the numbers

Concentration means a large share of your money depends on one investment or type of asset. There is no one perfect percentage for everyone.

STEP 2 OF 5

DO THE MATHS

A SIMPLE EXAMPLE

EXAMPLE: RM70,000 in one investment out of RM100,000 invested = 70%. Ask what could happen if that holding loses value or cannot be sold quickly.

Now use your own numbers

Value of one largest holding (RM)

Total investment value (RM)

Share in largest holding (%)

Largest holding divided by total, times 100

Money needed within 12 months (RM)

Accessible money available (RM)

WHAT YOUR NUMBER TELLS YOU

High concentration is a reason to examine risk, not proof that an investment is unsuitable. Consider fees, time horizon and available cash too.

A NOTE BEFORE YOU ACT

Never invest emergency money based on promises of quick or guaranteed returns. Check the person or firm with the regulator.

Compare your options

A good next step should fit your money, time and responsibilities - not only your hopes.

STEP 3 OF 5 EXPLORE

1 Keep and review

Understand what you own, costs and whether it still suits your goal.

2 Build flexibility

Plan how to keep near-term needs accessible without rushed selling.

3 Ask for a regulated review

Discuss risk tolerance and the whole portfolio with an appropriately authorised adviser.

Compare your choices

When can I use the money?

What can go wrong?

What are all the fees?

Before you decide, ask yourself

- [ ] Could I lose money, and how much?
- [ ] How long to withdraw or sell?
- [ ] Is the seller authorised, and what fees apply?

Your 30-day action plan

Four small weekly steps are usually easier to keep than one big promise.

STEP 4 OF 5

TAKE ACTION

WEEK 1

List investments

Add values, account types and what each is for.

My step:

WEEK 2

Check access and fees

Find exit rules, charges and how fast money can be withdrawn.

My step:

WEEK 3

Read the risks

Check concentration and the impact of a possible fall in value.

My step:

My step:

Make it real

My first action in the next 48 hours:

Date I will check my progress:

Review & take the next step

Come back after 30 days. A useful plan changes when life or the numbers change.

STEP 5 OF 5

KEEP IMPROVING

What I check	Today	After review
Largest holding share (%)
Fees I understand
Money available soon (RM)
Unknown items cleared

Your reflections

What surprised me about my investments?

What money might I need sooner than planned?

What am I still unsure about?

WHEN IT IS WORTH GETTING HELP

If you are considering an investment, check whether the seller is authorised by the Securities Commission Malaysia. Use FIMM checks for unit trust and PRS consultants.

Good questions to bring to a review

- Does my investment mix match my goals and time frame?
- What are the main fees, risks and alternatives?
